NUMBER 4

MRS. R. E. JAMES, FORMER ELBAN, DIED AT HER HOME IN FAIRFIELD WEDNESDAY

Elba friends were deeply grieved when word came last week of the death of Mrs. Richard E. James (Ida Bell) James, who passed away at her home in Fairfield late Wednesday afternoon following a long illness. Mrs. James spent a large portion of her early life in Elba and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Conner. Her father served the county as Tax Collector for a number of years and the family has been prominently identified with business and civic affairs of the county for a long period of years.

The "First Baptist Church Messenger" at Fairfield under the heading, "A Great Woman Dies," had this to say of Mrs. James: "At 5:30 p. m. Wednesday Mrs. R. E. (Ida Bell) James was graduated into glory. She did not lose her life, for 'to die is gain' (Phil. 1:21). She had suffered for several months. Her death ended her pain and heartaches forever.

Our church has never had a more devoted, consecrated member than Mrs. James. During her long illness she seldom missed church. She attended every service—prayer meeting included. She loved her Lord so much that even pain could not keep her from His service. Everyone who knew her said her loyalty to her church and her Lord made them want to be better Christians. A Sunday School class has been named for her in our church. This shows the esteem our people have for her. Indeed a great woman has died.

"We extend our deepest sympathy as a church to the following relatives left to mourn her going: her husband, R. E. James; daughter, Virginia Ruth; two sons: Richard, Jr., and Paul; two sisters: Mrs. Bonnie Whitman, Elba; and Mrs. Murray Fancher, Montevallo; two brothers: Ed Conner, Elba, and Gordon Conner, Montgomery; daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. E. James, Jr., and grandson, Richard II, and others."

Funeral services were held at Fairfield Friday morning with the pastor, Rev. J. E. Daniels, officiating. The body was brought to Elba where interment took place late in the afternoon at Evergreen cemetery. Rev. O. M. Fox and Rev. Vernon Taylor, assistant pastor of the Fairfield church, had charge of the commitment service.

GORDON MATHIS SUFFERING FROM BROKEN FOOT

Friends of Mr. Gordon Mathis regret to see him on crutches again, suffering from a broken left heel. The accident occurred Wednesday of last week when he fell about six feet and landed on his foot. He was engaged in painting and the board on which he was walking slipped off the ladder, causing him to fall. The bone in his heel was broken in several places.

It will be remembered that his right ankle was broken several years ago, and now that his "good" foot is injured, makes it pretty hard going. Friends trust that his injuries may soon be healed.

ATTENDED JAMES FUNERAL

Among the out-of-town relatives and friends here last Friday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. R. E. James were: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Conner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitman, Mr. A. C. Nolly, Montgomery; Mr. Harold James, Jackson, Miss.; Mr. J. W. James and sister, Marion, Goldsboro, N. C.; Mrs. Dick Bell, Columbia, S. C.; Mr. Robert James, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Feckle, Waycross, Ga.; Mr. John Mack, Mrs. Frank Smith, Glenwood; Mr. Ernest, Mr. Morris Pitts, Mrs. E. J. Daniels, Rev. Vernon Taylor, Fairfield; Mrs. Sugrest, Mississippi.

Miss Bonnie Farris, of Albany, Ga., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Farris on Elba, Route 3.

WAR DEPARTMENT LISTS DEAD AND MISSING MEN FROM COFFEE COUNTY

The first consolidated listing of Army dead and missing in World War II—a compilation of names of nearly 310,000 men and women who gave their lives in the Nation's service—was released recently by the War Department.

An overall death and missing rate of 2.98 per cent from all causes was indicated by the listing. Of more than 10,000,000 men and women mobilized into the Army between the Presidential declaration of unlimited national emergency on May 27, 1941, and the concluding date of the study January 31, 1946, a total of 307,554 had been killed in action, died of other causes or became missing, later to be determined dead. In addition, 1,424 persons were still carried as missing on January 31, 1946, bringing the total number of names in the list to 308,978.

Of the total, 57.1 per cent, (8,257 per cent) died of wounds suffered in combat; 929 (0.3 per cent) died of combat injuries; 85,219 (27.6 per cent) died of other causes in battle, and 14,841 (4.8 per cent) were administratively determined to have died. The missing figure of 1,424 represented 0.45 per cent of the total.

Most of the persons who were determined to have died were carried for periods of at least one year in a missing status and were declared dead under Public Law 490, 77th Congress, after thorough investigation of each case. In the forward of the booklets it was pointed out that the War Department is extremely reluctant to hold out hope to next of kin that any missing persons will be found alive. It is expected that after a reasonable lapse of time and after due investigation, most of these missing cases will be closed with final status.

The "death rate" in various states (which also includes missing) followed closely the proportions of their contributions to Army strength, although some discrepancies were noted, especially in the case of New Mexico, which early in the war suffered heavy casualties in a National Guard unit in the Philippines. New Mexico, with four-fifths of one per cent of the Nation's population, contributed 45 of one per cent of the Army's strength, and suffered .66 of one per cent of the Army's total deaths. The states with the lowest death rates were Mississippi, 2.32 per cent; Louisiana, 2.36 per cent; Alabama, 2.54 per cent; Florida, 2.63 per cent.

New York State, with the largest population and the largest contribution to the Army's strength, lost 31,215 persons, the greatest number of any state. Other high death totals were found in the more populous states: Pennsylvania, 26,554; Illinois, 18,601; California, 17,922; Ohio, 16,827; Texas, 15,941. The least populous states generally had the least deaths: Nevada, 349; Delaware, 579; Wyoming, 662; and Vermont, 874.

To insure the greatest accuracy in preparation of the list, the Adjutant General's office in Washington used punch-card tabulating and printing machines which automatically printed from cards the information appearing

SPARKMAN FAR IN LEAD IN TUESDAY VOTING; MAY HAVE MAJORITY

Congressman John Sparkman of Huntsville, was far in the lead in Tuesday's balloting, according to a report Wednesday morning from offices of the Associated Press in Montgomery, and lacked only a few hundred votes of having a majority of all votes cast.

Some observers were of the opinion that his lead was so great that the runner-up, Mr. Simpson, would not go into a second primary. Others thought a second primary would be held unless Mr. Sparkman actually had a clear majority.

In Coffee County only 11 out of the 32 boxes could be accounted for at noon Wednesday, with this result: Sparkman 576; Simpson 228; Boykin 164. The official tabulation will be made Thursday morning.

Stokes Haire and Chester Willis made a business trip to Columbus and Atlanta, Ga., Monday night.

In the books, The lists were proof-read after preparation and were reproduced to printing plates by photo-offset process, which reduced the possibility of error in composition.

In releasing the booklets, the War Department pointed out that the listing was a preliminary one, and might because of its scope contain errors which would be corrected when determined. In addition to possibility of error in preparation, it was emphasized that misinformation often is given unintentionally by an individual when he enters the service (such as a mistaken identification of his home county) and other inaccuracies are from time to time apt to be introduced into the individual's records.

Distribution of the limited supply of booklets was made to the press, the Congress, State Adjutants General and local Selective Service Boards. This distribution exhausted the supply of booklets, the War Department announced. A revised and final list is expected to be published at a future date.

The list which includes only those in the U. S. Army, contains 12 Coffee County men. The list for the Navy and Marines has not been completed by the War Department. One omission, which has already come to our attention is that of Lieut. Joseph L. Crook, of Elba, who was killed in action. We are sure there are other omissions and shall be glad to make corrections if they are called to our attention.

The highest death rate was 5.05 per cent for the District of Columbia. The following are the death rates for the Regular Army personnel who gave their home address to the Adjutant General, Washington, D. C., although they did not actually live in the nation's capital. Other high death rates were noted in Montana, with 4.93 per cent; North Dakota, 4.14 per cent; and Arizona, 4.01 per cent. The lowest death rate was in the case of the Territories, which lost only 1.18 per cent of their Army strength. Among the states, Maryland, with 2.20 per cent, had the lowest rate. Other states with low death ratios were Mississippi, 2.32 per cent; Louisiana, 2.36 per cent; Alabama, 2.54 per cent; Florida, 2.63 per cent.

New York State, with the largest population and the largest contribution to the Army's strength, lost 31,215 persons, the greatest number of any state. Other high death totals were found in the more populous states: Pennsylvania, 26,554; Illinois, 18,601; California, 17,922; Ohio, 16,827; Texas, 15,941. The least populous states generally had the least deaths: Nevada, 349; Delaware, 579; Wyoming, 662; and Vermont, 874.

To insure the greatest accuracy in preparation of the list, the Adjutant General's office in Washington used punch-card tabulating and printing machines which automatically printed from cards the information appearing

ELBA LOSES TWO GAMES, WINS ONE DURING PAST WEEK; ONLY ELBA LOSSES

The inevitable has happened. Elba's fast-stopping and usually hard-hitting ball team, finally bowed to the general law of averages and lost two games to the Beat Seven club last Thursday afternoon by scores of 5-3 and 4-1. Fielding mistakes and failure to hit caused Elba to lose the only games of the league season.

On Sunday afternoon the Elba team resumed its winning ways by trouncing Curtis, 8-1, which gave Elba a record of 16 wins against only 2 losses for a percentage of .889. Laverne, in second place in standing, has 12 wins and 5 losses. Tex. Young was in good form and gave up only 3 safeties, while Elba made 3 safe knocks off Meredith.

Sunday's Results
Elba 8, Curtis 1; Beat Seven 12, Enterprise 9; Brandley 10, Laverne 8.

FORMER ELBA WOMAN HAS NOVEL ACCEPTED

"The Invisible Sun," a novel of life in small Southern towns and written by Miss Mildred Lee, a former resident of Elba, was published May 15 on the spring fiction list of the Westminster Press of Philadelphia. The novel is Miss Lee's first.

Miss Lee, daughter of Dallas Powell Lee, Baptist minister, was born in Blackton, Ala., and has lived in numerous Southern towns since then, including Elba, and Cairo and Atlanta, Ga.

Advance notices of the book report it "recreates life in small Southern towns where salaries are small and budgets of necessity coincide."

"Mildred Lee," says the publisher, "knows her background thoroughly, having lived with her pastor father in a series of small towns deep in the Southland, she has absorbed the atmosphere to such a degree that she gives it to us refreshed and new, in her writing. Here is a story of blindness conquered—of faith revitalized—of a man who meets his God and goes to work for Him. Love, strife, the blood-stain of an angry mob, the endless cycle of birth and death which forms the unchanging pattern of life for all of us—a story both gentle and ruthless, yet very very human."

This book by Mildred Lee will be in the Elba Library soon.

CHURCH YARD WORKING AT PLEASANT RIDGE

Stroud, who has just been dismissed from a hospital suffering from a broken foot, cuts and bruises sustained about two weeks ago near St. Andrews, Fla., when the bus he was driving and a passenger car driven in a terrible wreck. It was stated that the passenger car driver was killed instantly and several bus passengers were also injured. Investigators announced that the driver of the car was intoxicated and ran into the bus. Mr. Stroud was absolved of all blame for the accident.

Charles Harrison has been enlisted in the Army and has gone to Fort Benning, Ga., for assignment. He left Elba with the National Guard unit in December, 1940. He served many months in the European Theater of operations, attaining the rank of Captain. He received his discharge several months ago, but has decided to re-enter the service. He re-enlists with the rank of Technical Sergeant.

Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Dixon arrived in Elba last Friday from Nashville, Tenn., where they have been for several weeks. Mrs. Dixon, who was injured in the crash of the bus, has returned to Elba to resume her studies at Peabody College. She will return to Elba about September 1st to make preparations for opening of Elba's school.

RED CROSS CHAPTER HANDLES 617 CASES FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1946

West Coffee County Chapter of American Red Cross handled 617 cases during the first six months of 1946, an average of more than 100 per month. Mr. S. N. Rowe, chapter chairman, announced this week.

Cases comprised 366 Army; 119 Navy; 115 ex-servicemen and 23 civilians. An expenditure of $946.52 was required to handle these home service cases for the six months, Mr. Rowe said. Of this amount $349.55 was used in direct assistance to servicemen, ex-servicemen and their families, $390.87 was used for other home service expenses, most of which was for long distance messages and telegrams, to facilitate the work.

"The bulk of Red Cross work in the local office in peacetime as well as in war," Mr. Rowe said, "has to do with what is known as 'home service,' that is, assistance to servicemen, ex-servicemen and their families. In some instances the servicemen presents his problems directly to the office; in other instances the problem is presented to the executive secretary by the military authorities. These problems comprise inquiries and messages, information, social histories, thorough verifications, reports on health of families, assistance with government benefits, and financial assistance."

ALABAMA BANKS ARE IN STRONG POSITION;
ASSETS MAKE BIG GAINS

Montgomery, Ala. — Alabama banks are in a strong position to meet whatever problems the post-war era may present, according to Miss Addie Lee Farish, Director of the State Department of Commerce.

A statement of condition of the 153 State banks and one branch bank at close of business June 29, 1946, showed total assets of $420,406,726, a gain of more than $58,000,000 in a year, the figure for June 30, 1945, having been $361,972,819. Deposits relatives showed an increase of more than $100,000,000 in the same period, from $249,928,485 to $349,928,485. Increased business activity, and the fact that banks are taking care of credit needs of their communities, was reflected in increase in loans and advances to $59,772,089 June 29, 1946, to $70,242,466 on June 29, 1945.

Miss Betty Jean Jones, who is attending summer school in Montgomery, spent this week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Jones, in Elba.

Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, of Auburn, were guests of Elba relatives during the past week.
